SUNDAY EXCURSIONISTS CAUGHT IN STREET-CAR TIE-UP.

MORE PEOPLE LEFT THE CITY YES-TERDAY THAN CAME IN.

Potal Crowd Handled at Union Station Shows Decided Falling Off-Sunday in the Parks.

Many of the excursionists who came to Indianapolis yesterday morning to remain in the ity only till evening stayed here until late into the night and some of them until early this morning on account of the street car power giving out about time for the excursions to leave.

All cars all over the city came to a sudden stop about 5 o'clock and on the lines to the parks were hundreds of the excursionists on their way to the Union Station. There was not enough power to move any of the cars for over an hour, and when some of the one-day visitors from the country got to the station they found their Night Station Master Lewis says that not more than fifty persons missed their trains. Most of these came in on the I., D. & W. excursion from Decatur and Springfield, Ill., and the L. E. & W. train from Michigan City and Rochester. The latter train left the Union Station at 6 o'clock and the I., D. & W. pulled out thirty minutes later. Both the trains had long runs to make and the railroad officials decided that the comfort of the hundreds of people on them of the few who were late. The belated excursionists were sent home on regular trains during the night and early this morning. All of them had left town by

Indianapolis but a new phase on the Sunday excursion business yesterday and sent more people out of the city than Cincinnat and the small towns over the State sent here. Only four excursions were run into Indianapolis, while seven large excursion trains steamed out of Indianapolis, with as many people as they could haul. This is the first time this year that more have left the city on Sunday than the excursions from over the State and Ohio and Illinois points have brought here. Officials of the Indianapolis Union Railway Company estimate that about 8,000 people through the gates at the Station yesteruay. About 5,000 were Indianapolis people taking the out-going excur-sions and 3,000 came in from Michigan City and Rochester, Cincinnati, Mattoon, Ili., and Decatur, Ill.

Following were the excursions out of the city: L. E. & W. to Rochester and Michigan City; C., H. & D. (two trains), to Ciu-cinnati; L. E. & W., to Fort Wayne; Vandalia, to Greencastle and Terre Haute; Pennsylvania to Madison, and Big Four to Aurora; to the city-L. E. & W., from Michigan City and Rochester; Big Four from Cincinnati; Big Four from Mattoon, Ill., and C., H. & D. from Decatur, Ill. Railroad officials are not surprised that there should come one Sunday when the excursion crowds to Indianapolis do not number eight, ten or twelve thousand people. For the past two months there have been from six to eight and ten big excursions to this city every Sunday, and the crowds into the city have been much larger than the number of people taken out. It is said the annual excursion to Niagara Falls, Atlantic City and the G. A. R. excursion to San Francisco are partly the cause for the falling off in the excursion of the Niagara Falls excursions left here last week and some will go this week, and they, of course, have a tendency to lessen the local traffic, it is said. And the railroads cannot spare so many cars for shorttrip Sunday excursions when their seashore and other distant excursions are in progress, as they can through the earlier part of the season. probably they rejoiced-that there was a full in the excursion business yesterday. Sunday all summer long these men have worked like Trojans to keep the Sunday exthings they did hot want to, from getting trains, from losing their lunch basketsand their children-and getting them in and out of Indianapolis safely, which means a great amount of what is called manual can ask many questions and start to do a good many things which would not result well, when they are off on a one-day ex-cursion trip. But the Union Station force had a rest yesterday. People seem to want to go to the parks just as much when the weather is cool as the terrible heat, such as blistered Indianapolis a few weeks ago. It is estimated by the park omciais that about 20,000 people went to the several parks yesterday. Fairview Park, where King and Queen, the famous diving horses, began a series tion was effected by electing Dr. C. S. Boynof performances in the afternoon, was the ton president, Mrs. A. Henry Williams Arrested and Police

Are Looking for Two Others. Henry Williams, colored, of Meridian, Miss., was arrested last night by Bicyclemen Duncan and Askins and slated at the police station on a loitering charge. Williams says he is traveling with a circus and claims that he has done nothing to cause his arrest, but the police believe that they have a case of robbery against him and two of his companions who are still at large. Yesterday afternoon Williams and two colored friends were seen standing in front of the restaurant run by William Potter, at No. 944 Massachusetts avenue, and their actions excited the suspicions of several persons who watched them. Williams, it is said, entered the restaurant and bought two loaves of bread. Later one of his companions went into the place and ordered a cup of coffee. After he had drunk the coffee the other man walked in and ordered a cup also. While the walter was in the back room getting the coffee the second man walked behind the counter and stole the money box, which contained about $6, and both of the coffee drinkers disappeared before the waiter returned with the order. The police were notified and placed Williams under arrest and they expect that they will be able to locate the other men

WILL CELEBRATE EMMET DAY.

Prominent Irishmen of the City Make Preliminary Arrangements. A meeting of a number of representative Irishmen was held yesterday at Knights of Columbus Hall, 14 and 16 East Washington street, to arrange for the proper celebration of the centennial of the execution of Robert Emmet, the Irish patriot martyr, who was executed in Dublin Sept. 20, 1803. Samuel Quinn, of the Emmet Club, presided. Among others present were M. P. Carrick, Lafayette, Ind.; Maurice Don-nelly, Capt. C. J. Murphy, Dr. Michael Young, William L. O'Connor, Cornelius Kelly, J. P. O'Mahony, Edward Nolan, Bernard Kelly, James H. Deery, M. J. O'Connor, P. D. Naughton, John H. Scanlon, John C. Kelly, Martin Grady, William Cayanaugh, W. H. Foster, Neal Lenaghan and P. J. Fallon. Telegrams were read from the Emmet Club of Fort Wayne and from organizations in Logansport, Terre Haute and other points in the State pledging hearty approval to the movement.

It was decided that a feature of the celebration would be a memorial banquet, where the principles of Emmet will be extolled by orators of the race. Messrs. Kelly, Scanlon and others pledged the support of the Ancient Order of Hibernians to the centennial celebration. A committee consisting of Messrs. Tired of life on account of trouble with her children, Mrs. Maggie Sayres, 927 King avenue, Haughville, attempted suicide last night by taking a large quantity of furniture polish which she had in the house. She became unconscious and for several hours her life was despaired of. The City Dispensary ambulance, in charge of Drs. Cunningham and Sheek, made the run to the suburb in record time. After working with the unfortunate woman for some time there was no sign of recovery, and the physicians then took recourse to the stomach pump and she finally regained consciousness. Her condition is not considered dangerous, but she will be con-fined to her room for several days on account of the large amount of polish taken.

HIS POSITION CAUSES MUCH EXCIT MENT AT THE ASSEMBLY.

Probably More Than Two Thousand People Pass Through the Gates-Bethany Park Programme.

Notwithstanding it was Sunday yesterday was probably the busiest and most lively day in the calendar of this year's assembly at Acton Park, and there were a number of features that characterized the last Sunday of the season. The attendance eclipsed that of a week ago, when more than a thousand people passed through the main gate. It was estimated that the visitors yesterday numbered nearly two thousand, the largest crowd for many years. The services in the tabernacle were all enjoyable and well attended.

Probably the most interesting and widely-felt feature of the day was a second "strike" in the culinary department of the Acton Park Hotel, and while on the face of matters it appears serious, the service was not hampered to the extent of annoying the large number that invaded the dining room at noon, when the ladies of the Acton Park Auxiliary served one of the best meals since they took charge, which is putting a high standard on the

The strike is the second this season, and while a number of the ladies of the church "pitched in" and helped in the kitchen, the only delay caused was in the service of the dining room, all of which had to be performed by Ovid Rayburn with a limited amount of assistance. The necessity for the one-man waiter act, which Rayburn performed after the fashion of a genuine knight of the tray, was that the sudden strike of the cooks in the kitchen caused the women of the auxiliary to do a lightning-change stunt from the tray to the skillet, which was done with all the alacrity of feminine art. It seems that there was an altercation of some sort between the head waiter and two colored cooks, in which the man told Roach on East Washington street in Irvington. The home is now occupied by the members of the kitchen force "where to get off," and as this was not agreeable George A. Roach and his family, and has to them they resigned. It was peculiar to sole waiter, but from the ease and grace with which he served meals and saw to the comfort of the guests one would surmise Hall and wife, W. H. Gadd, W. P. Malott, that he had been in such a position before. B. W. Cole, Indianapolis; C. B. Emerich, REMOVAL OF CUSTODIAN.

Another interesting part of the day's programme that was not announced in the official calendar of the assembly was the movement concerning the removal of the custodian, Joseph Sutherland. This affair has stirred the staid and prosaic atmosphere of the Methodist camp ground as it has not been stirred for many years. complete account of the situation has appeared preivously in the Journal. Since the lively meeting of the association held last Thursday, at which the trouble was brought to light, the cottagers have been discussing the situation. It is said that the question of the custodian will not come up at the meeting this afternoon, when a superintendent will be chosen. It is practically assured that L. G. Akin will again be chosen, as he has served two terms and given excellent satisfaction.

An incident of the day was the falling evening, which created a great deal of excitement at the time. The name of the woman could not be learned, but she was not injured. In attempting to board the car she was thrown backward and again, in trying to get out of the way of a moving car she slipped and fell and her little girl. about five years old, fell in front of the fender. A song service led by Miss Abbie Harris, preceded the sermon, which was delivered at 11 a. m. by Dr. D. R. Dungan, of Canton, Mo. In his introductory remarks Dr. Dungan said that the sermons of to-day were expected to be flights of oratory, a kind of toboggan slide over some intel-lectual rainbow. People say that they want to be lifted up by the sermon, and Dr. Dun-gan compared this desire to that of young children liking to be tossed up in the air, for the novelty of the sensation, but stated that he had passed the stage in his ministry when he preached simply to please the people. He followed these remarks by a scholarly address on "Jesus the Teacher." delivered in his quiet, dignified way. The afternoon sermon was given by W. P.
